

Premium cable manufacturer PROCAB is introducing an extensive new range of CPR compliant cables during ISE. This range is intended to be used in applications where CPR classification is required. This way PROCAB provides the safest possible solution to installed cabling.

This new cable range will consist of loudspeaker, microphone, CAT6 and even CAT7 types of cables. You can choose between 100 and 300 meters variants so that possible surpluses are kept to a absolute minimum.

These especially designed cables provide optimal, tested safety in every environment. They are specially made to minimize any hazardous smoke, burning droplets and acidity in the smoke. The outer jacket is flame retardant, providing optimal resistance to spreading fire and therefore maximizing the overall safety of the construction and building. Available Euroclass types include B2CA, CCA and DCA.
