Advanced Signal Distribution Solutions and Ergonomic Devices with 5 Years Warranty from Digitus

January 2020 – Assmann Electronic presents solutions for signal distribution and ergonomic workplaces according to the latest standards under the Digitus brand at this year's exhibition Integrated Systems Europe in Amsterdam.

The brand's broad portfolio in the field of signal distribution has been developed to transmit high-resolution content over long distances. The ergonomic products from Digitus meet the individual needs of users in the modern working world. Both areas work hand in hand when modern office concepts and complex infrastructures with great demands on quality and functionality are required.

For sophisticated signal distribution projects Digitus offers video extender, converter, splitter, switches and matrices. The products are specialized in distributing signals without losing quality over long distances. Signal extenders from Digitus, for example, enable signal transmission over many technologies, such as: HDBaseT™, CAT cable, IP, fibre optics, and wireless. The brand has extended its range to include wireless technology and is now presenting this at the exhibition.

In the field of ergonomics, the manufacturer is presenting in particular its electrically height-adjustable table frames, which are offered with a 5-year manufacturer's warranty. This guarantee goes beyond the legal warranty, because Digitus is convinced of the long-term quality of the mechanics and electronics. To provide ideal solutions for complete, ergonomically designed workstations, Digitus also offers matching table, wall and combination brackets, monitor risers, cable management equipment, and accessories.

Meet Assmann Electronic in hall 14 at booth E-120 to learn more about Digitus products and solutions in both areas.
