Market leading Digital Signage OEM, Allsee Technologies has announced global expansion plans for 2019 with the construction of a new dedicated UK headquarters alongside the opening of our first European office. Work is already well underway on a new 20,000 square foot headquarters for Allsee in Birmingham which is due to be completed by Summer 2019. Designed by PHD Architects the modern office block will feature multiple Digital Signage showrooms and an open floor plan which will be able to comfortably house the ever expanding Allsee team. The increased warehouse capacity will allow us to hold more stock here in the UK which means our resellers and distributors will be able to take advantage of a greater stock availability. Allsee Technologies Managing Director Baoli Zhao had the following to say about the plans.

“We are really pleased with the market growth of commercial displays. From our own research the market is set to grow exponentially in the future and that is why we are expanding. The new facilities will enable us to expand our customer service and R&D teams as well as holding more stock in the UK.”

Following on from the expansion of our UK base we are proud to announce the opening of our first European office. As the first Allsee office outside of the UK the new office and showroom space located in Pittem, Belgium will serve as the commercial centre for all our European mainland partners headed up by our European Sales Managers Guillaume Vandenberghe and Tom Debruyne. In response to the official opening of the new office Guillaume Vandenberghe had the following to say:

“This is a very exciting time for Allsee Technologies – as the Digital Signage market continues to expand so do we.”
