

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

February 4th, 2020

Maria Jokelainen

Kuori Oy

+358 (0) 40 5691397

maria.jokelainen@kuori.tech

Kuori

Kuori brings the Nordic winter to ISE to showcase their touchscreens for extreme environments

Helsinki, Finland: Kuori, a Finnish engineering firm specialized in touchscreen solutions, is coming this year to ISE with a cold-cave full sensory experience. In the cold-cave visitors will be able to try their latest interactive displays that are resistant to impacts, heat, rain, and cold.

To complete the Finnish winter theme, you are invited to join their ice bar at booth 5-U39 where they will be hosting beers after the first and second day of ISE at 16:00.

About Kuori

Kuori is a Finnish design, engineering, and manufacturing firm specialising in custom touchscreen solutions.

Kuori answers to the growing needs of use-case specific touchscreens. They combine deep expertise of hardware software, electronics, mechanics, and aesthetics all the way up to managing full mass-production. For the past 5 years Kuori has been building custom touchscreen solutions for clients in multiple verticals like healthcare, retail, logistics, construction, hospitality, military, and more

www.kuori.tech

Pictures